JUDGMENT (Per Sri B.Prakash Rao, J)

Heard both sides and at their request, the main appeal itself is taken up for disposal at the admission stage.

The appellant who has been working with the respondent corporation filed this appeal inter alia seeking to assail the order dismissing the writ petition seeking for consideration of appeal dated 08-11-2004 and pass appropriate orders.

The learned single Judge after going into the merits of the case and the respective contentions held that there is no specific provision provided for any such appeal and therefore, the petitioner is not entitled for any indulgence.

Having regard to the same even in this appeal also, the learned counsel for the appellant submits that there is no such provision, but however, the same can be treated as a representation. We are not prepared to accept the said contention as long as there is statutory appeal. In the circumstances, we do not find any merits in the appeal.

Accordingly, the writ appeal is dismissed. However, it shall be open for the appellant to avail any other remedy as available under the law including the provisions of Industrial Disputes Act. No costs.
